TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 16

10:15 am to 10:45 am

BRIAN BAUER

Brian Bauer is a shareholder in the law firm of Hall, Render, Killian, Heath & Lyman, PLLC and has over 20 years of experience in health law. Brian concentrates his practice in the areas of health care regulatory compliance, business transactions, reimbursement and governance. He has assisted a number of providers (hospitals, FQHCs, RHCs and independent physician groups) to form Accountable Care Organizations and to apply for participation in the Medicare Shared Savings Program. Brian's hospital clients include multi-hospital systems, critical access hospitals and municipal health facilities corporations. He has served as general counsel to numerous hospitals, advising them on a wide range of health law, business and ethical issues. Brian has extensive experience in medical staff relations, credentialing and peer review, including medical staff disciplinary actions and corrective action hearings. He has guided clients through internal and external audits, investigations and disclosures. In addition, Brian has extensive experience in dealing with Medicare, Medicaid and private payor reimbursement and credentialing issues. He also routinely works with clients on governance, board development and succession planning.

In addition to hospitals, Brian also advises and represents multi-hospital joint ventures, graduate medical education/residency programs, medical control authorities, federally qualified health centers, provider-based rural health clinics and county mental health authorities. He earned his law degree from the Valparaiso University School of Law in 1987.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 15

10:45 am to 11:45 am

General Session PAUL MOORE, HRSA

Paul Moore, DPh

Senior Health Policy Advisor, Federal Office of Rural Health Policy

Health Resources and Services Administration

US Department of Health and Human Services

Dr. Moore currently serves in Washington, DC as Senior Health Policy Advisor to the Federal Office of Rural Health Policy. To this opportunity he brings a lifetime of experience related to rural healthcare from both his family heritage and more than thirty years in community and hospital pharmacy. He still owns a community pharmacy in eastern Oklahoma and Pharmacy & Consulting Management Company which provides remote pharmacist services to small, rural hospitals in three states. But his career reaches beyond just pharmacy as he has served as the CEO of a County Healthcare Authority, consisting of one of the nation's earliest Critical Access Hospitals, the County EMS, a physician clinic and a Home Health Agency.....an opportunity which served him well as the 2008 President of the National Rural Health Association.... and now in his day job, where he has the opportunity to work with Critical Access Hospitals and other rural providers across the nation around issues of quality improvement and patient safety.
