

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The Vulnerable Rural Hospital Assistance Program provides targeted assistance to at risk rural hospitals struggling to maintain health care services.

VRHAP works with hospitals and their communities to:

- Understand community health needs and resources
- Ensure hospitals and communities can keep needed health care local
- Address economic challenges

Solutions may include:

- Assessing key health care services to provide
- Identifying cost efficiencies
- Exploring other mechanisms to meet community health care needs

VRHAP is a cooperative agreement with the Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) Federal Office of Rural Health Policy (FORHP) and implemented by the Center for Optimizing Rural Health at Texas A&M University.

PROGRAM IMPACT

---

We will measure performance outcomes throughout the award period to allow for continuous quality improvement opportunities.

Data collected, tracked, and analyzed will include:

- Hospital capacity to provide services
- Accessibility of services
- Utilization
- Affordability

HRSA FEDERAL OFFICE OF RURAL HEALTH POLICY

The Federal Office of Rural Health Policy (FORHP) administers grant programs to improve rural health care by increasing access to care for underserved populations and building health care capacity at both the state and local levels. FORHP advises the Secretary on the effects of current policies and proposed statutory, regulatory, administrative, and budgetary changes.<sup>2</sup>
