Eat Right with Color!
Fruits and vegetables add color, texture and taste to just about any meal. Eat as many colors as you can to make the most of the fruits and vegetables you eat. The mix of colors reminds us of the varying vitamins, minerals and antioxidants found in fruits and vegetables.

Green fruits and vegetables have nutrients that help reduce the risk of cancer, lower blood pressure and cholesterol levels and keep your eyesight, digestion and bones in good shape.

Spinach and other dark leafy greens, green peppers, peas, cucumber and celery contain lutein. Lutein works with another chemical found in corn, red peppers, oranges, grapes and egg yolks to help keep eyes healthy. Together, these chemicals may help reduce risk of cataracts and age-related macular degeneration, which can lead to blindness if untreated.
