1. Missouri Substance Use Disorder (MO SUD) Grant Program Description

1.1 PROGRAM TITLE

Missouri Substance Use Disorder Grant Program or MO SUD Grant Program.

1.2 MO SUD GRANT PROGRAM ADMINISTRATION

The Bureau of Community Health and Wellness (CHW) within the Division of Community and Public Health (DCPH) within the Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services (DHSS) administers the MO SUD Grant Program.

1.3 MO SUD GRANT PROGRAM FUNDING

The MO SUD Grant Program is a state-authorized program established under Missouri Constitution Article XIV Section 2.6 (2). The grant program is funded through the Missouri Veterans, Health, and Community Reinvestment Fund from revenue on taxes and fees collected from retail sales of adult-use marijuana sold at licensed retailers within the state.¹

- 1.3.1 DHSS is required to use these funds to support and increase recovery, prevention, and treatment programs and services targeting Missouri's populations with the highest rates of drug-related overdose, poor health outcomes, and contributing health factors. The MO SUD Grant Program offers multiple funding opportunities, each with specific objectives to achieve this goal.
- 1.3.2 Grant funding is subject to state budget appropriations for the period of July 1 to June 30 each year.

1.4 MO SUD GRANT PROGRAM GOAL AND STRATEGIC PRIORITIES

The goal of the SUD Grant Program is to improve health outcomes and prevent and reduce the prevalence of substance use disorders (SUDs) and/or drug-related harms, including overdose.

- 1.4.1 By supporting programs and services to increase access to evidence-based, low-barrier drug addiction treatment, overdose prevention education, and job placement, housing, and counseling for those with SUDs. This program aligns with the following DHSS State Health Improvement Plan strategic priorities:²
 - a. Whole Person Health Access;
 - b. Fostering Healthy Behaviors; and
 - c. Infant and Maternal Health.

5. Background Information

5.1 Access to recovery support and wrap-around services, which include non-medical services that address health and well-being (e.g., job placement, housing, and transportation support), is a fundamental component of achieving better health outcomes for populations with SUDs. The inability to access necessary support services can lead to poorer outcomes and increase the risk of drug-related harm for vulnerable populations. Several factors can influence an individual's ability to access and stay engaged in SUD-related services, including: socioeconomic status, geographic location, availability of services, stigma surrounding SU, and systematic barriers within the health care system.⁷ For instance, those living in rural areas may face challenges such as a lack of nearby treatment facilities or care personnel providing SUD treatment and recovery support. Moreover, socioeconomic factors, such as income and employment, can hinder access to support services, as individuals may lack the financial resources to afford treatment. Populations with SUD face many challenges with accessing SUD-related services, including: ^{7, 8}

1. Limited broadband;
2. Greater geographic and distance barriers;
3. Lack of facilities offering the care needed;
4. Lack of health literacy;
5. Social stigma;
6. Higher uninsured rates;
7. Longer wait times for care;
8. Fewer transportation options;
9. Fewer housing options;
10. Fewer employment options; and
11. Fewer options for SUD-related care and support services.

5.2 The challenges associated with SU and MH conditions can make it difficult for individuals to access the health care system, including SUD-related services. The Annual Status Report on Substance Use and Mental Health in Missouri revealed that in 2021 and 2022, approximately 943,000 residents experienced a SUD, including 54,000 youth ages 12-17 (11.2%) and 889,000 adults 18 and older (18.9%). Additionally, out of the residents with an SUD, 13.4 percent (13.4%) of adolescents and 23 percent (23%) of adults needed treatment, but only 5.3 percent (5.3%) of adolescents and 5.8 percent (5.8%) of adults received it.⁹ This highlights a significant gap between people needing services and people receiving services.

5.3 Addressing the challenges of accessing support services and sustaining recovery in populations with higher rates of SUD is essential for fostering resilience. Recovery is a highly individualized and non-linear journey, necessitating tailored pathways that align support services with a holistic approach. The recovery process entails multiple life dimensions, including support surrounding physical health, emotional well-being, social connections, community involvement, and economic stability.^{4,10}

- 5.4 Research highlights the effectiveness of low-barrier care in enhancing treatment engagement and recovery outcomes, underscoring the vital need to improve access to these essential services.¹¹ Given the personal nature of recovery, the available services and support must be suitable for target populations and adaptable to ensure cultural relevance. These community-based services address each person's unique environment and offer both emotional and practical support to promote lasting recovery from SU and MH challenges. By enhancing the likelihood of sustained recovery, these services guide individuals toward abstinence and improved overall well-being.^{4,10}
- 5.5 The DHSS continues to uphold its mission of promoting health and safety through prevention, collaboration, education, innovation, and response. Increasing access to recovery services for populations with SUD or co-occurring SU and MH disorders offers numerous benefits. By providing more resources and support, populations with SUD are more likely to engage in treatment programs and utilize recovery supports, leading to higher rates of recovery and lower return-to-use rates. Reduced barriers to recovery and increased access to wrap-around services also facilitate earlier intervention, which can significantly reduce the long-term effects of substance misuse, such as health complications and social instability.¹² By fostering recovery-supportive environments that prioritize holistic approaches to SUD-related services and consider the comprehensive needs of the individual, communities can empower individuals to thrive in their recovery journey, contributing to a healthier, more resilient population overall.

6. Project Description

Populations of Focus

- 6.1 Grantees shall focus their project on populations with high rates of SUDs. Grantees should use data to identify the focus population(s) and communities their project serves.

Project Strategies

- 6.2 The Reducing Barriers to SUD Recovery NGO will fund projects that establish new or enhanced non-clinical recovery support services to address the comprehensive needs of populations with SUD to improve access to recovery services and enhance overall recovery outcomes. Applicants may offer these services prior to, during, and/or after SUD treatment either in conjunction with treatment and/or as separate and distinct services. Applicants shall propose a project using one or more of the listed strategies. The project should include one or more activities listed that address the selected strategy(ies). The project shall include methods to ensure the focus population(s) receives the necessary support and resources needed to facilitate recovery and wellness contributing to an improved quality of life. The following is a list of strategies that applicants may propose:

1. Strategy 1. Integrate and Enhance SUD Recovery Support Service Delivery

- i. Workforce Expansion: Increase the public health workforce serving populations most affected by SUD through establishing new or enhancing existing recruitment and retention initiatives such as pre-professional training opportunities, training for achieving specialized credentials or skill sets, grow your own programs, etc.
 - ii. SUD Services Integration: Improve access to person-centered recovery services by enhancing or establishing new integrated services to address the diverse needs of individuals with SUD, such as providing peer support services, navigation, and case management; establishing a comprehensive referral system and network in the community; creating primary access points for individuals to access multiple services; diversifying available services; and cross-training providers.
2. Strategy 2. Establish New or Enhance Recovery Support Services
- i. Childcare Support: Establish a new program or enhance an existing program to provide care and supervision for child(ren) younger than 14 years of age and for fewer than 24 hours per day while parent or guardian participates in treatment and/or recovery support activities. These services must be provided in a manner that complies with state laws regarding childcare facilities and must be sustainable beyond the grant period.
 - ii. Education and/or Employment Support: Enhance the likelihood of populations with higher rates of SUD securing employment by establishing a new program or enhancing an existing program that offers education and/or employment support services, such as general education development, job training programs, employment assistance (e.g., job search services, job placement services, financial literacy education, networking support) counseling services or peer support in the workplace, recovery-friendly workplace policies, and reducing stigma in the workforce.
 - iii. Health Literacy Education: Establish new program or enhance existing efforts to empower individuals with SUD to recognize their needs and effectively engage with available services by providing clear and accessible information, such as educational materials, navigation services, community outreach, and health awareness and promotion messaging.
 - iv. Housing Support: Establish new efforts or enhance existing efforts to increase access to safe and stable housing support for populations with SUD, focusing on innovative and sustainable housing solutions. This may include providing affordable housing options and policies (e.g., rental assistance, inclusionary zoning policies, shared housing programs), assistance in navigating affordable housing options, and ongoing services and support that aim towards independent housing stability.

- v. Legal Services: Establish new supports or enhance existing supports for participants with legal problems to help them access necessities such as health care, housing, government benefits, employment, and educational services.
 - vi. Social Support: Enhance resilience among youth populations with SUD or struggling with SU by establishing new efforts or enhancing existing efforts to provide social supports designed to create a nurturing environment during their continuum of care, particularly initiatives that cater to adolescents and young adults (e.g., mentorship programs, skill-building training, community engagement services, support groups, etc.).
 - vii. Transportation Support: Increase access to and retention in recovery support services by establishing new non-emergency transportation services or enhancing existing non-emergency transportation services for individuals to engage in recovery-supportive activities, (e.g., volunteering, employment, seeking legal or social services, etc.).
- 6.3 Grantees may propose other evidence-informed activities not listed herein that align with the NGO's goals and strategies.
- 6.4 Grantees should be working towards project sustainability beyond the grant period and without grant funds.
- 6.5 Grantees are required to report on the general performance metrics outlined. Depending on the project scope, Grantees shall also report on project-specific performance metrics identified in collaboration with and approved by the DHSS. See Section 9.2 for further instructions.

The objective of this program is to improve health outcomes and prevent and reduce the prevalence of substance use disorders (SUDs) and/or drug-related harms, including overdose.

ANTI-DISCRIMINATION AGAINST ISRAEL ACT CERTIFICATION

Statutory Requirement: Section 34.600, RSMo, precludes entering into a contract with a company to acquire products and/or services “unless the contract includes a written certification that the company is not currently engaged in and shall not, for the duration of the contract, engage in a boycott of goods or services from the State of Israel; companies doing business in or with Israel or authorized by, licensed by, or organized under the laws of the State of Israel; or persons or entities doing business in the State of Israel.”

Exceptions: The statute provides two exceptions for this certification: 1) “contracts with a total potential value of less than one hundred thousand dollars” or 2) “contractors with fewer than ten employees.” Therefore the following certification is required prior to any contract award.

Section 34.600, RSMo, defines the following terms:

Boycott Israel and Boycott of the State of Israel: engaging in refusals to deal, terminating business activities, or other actions to discriminate against, inflict economic harm, or otherwise limit commercial relations specifically with the State of Israel; companies doing business in or with Israel or authorized by, licensed by, or organized under the laws of the State of Israel; or persons or entities doing business in the State of Israel, that are all intended to support a boycott of the State of Israel. A company’s statement that it is participating in boycotts of the State of Israel; companies doing business in or with Israel or authorized by, licensed by, or organized under the laws of the State of Israel; or persons or entities doing business in the State of Israel, or that it has taken the boycott action at the request, in compliance with, or in furtherance of calls for a boycott of the State of Israel; companies doing business in or with Israel or authorized by, licensed by, or organized under the laws of the State of Israel; or persons or entities doing business in the State of Israel shall be considered to be conclusive evidence that a company is participating in a boycott of the State of Israel; companies doing business in or with Israel or authorized by, licensed by, or organized under the laws of the State of Israel; or persons or entities doing business in the State of Israel; provided, however that a company that has made no such statement may still be considered to be participating in a boycott of the State of Israel; companies doing business in or with Israel or authorized by, licensed by, or organized under the laws of the State of Israel; or persons or entities doing business in the State of Israel if other factors warrant such a conclusion.

Company: any for-profit or not-for-profit organization, association, corporation, partnership, joint venture, limited partnership, limited liability partnership, limited liability company, or other entity or business association, including all wholly-owned subsidiaries, majority-owned subsidiaries, parent companies, or affiliates of those entities or business associations.

Public Entity: the state of Missouri or any political subdivision thereof, including all boards, commissions, agencies, institutions, authorities, and bodies politic and corporate of the state created by or in accordance with state law or regulations.

- b. To the extent that a provision of the Grant Agreement is contrary to the Constitution or laws of the State of Missouri or of the United States, the provisions shall be void and unenforceable. However, the balance of the Grant Agreement shall remain in force between the parties unless terminated by consent of both the Grantee and the state.

The Grantee agrees and understands that the Grant Agreement shall constitute an assignment by the Grantee to the State of Missouri of all rights, title, and interest in and to all causes of action that the Grantee may have under the antitrust laws of the United States or the State of Missouri for which causes of action have accrued or will accrue as the result of or in relation to the particular equipment, supplies, and/or services purchased or procured by the Grantee in the fulfillment of the contract with the State of Missouri.

8. CANCELLATION OF CONTRACT

- a. In the event of material breach of the contractual obligations by the Grantee, the state may cancel the Grant Agreement. The actual cure must be completed within no more than 10 working days from notification, or at a minimum the Grantee must provide the state within 10 working days from notification a written plan detailing how the Grantee intends to cure the breach that receives Department written approval.
- b. If the Grantee fails to cure the breach or if circumstances demand immediate action, the state will issue a notice of cancellation terminating the Grant Agreement immediately. If it is determined that the state improperly cancelled the Grant Agreement, such cancellation shall be deemed a termination for convenience in accordance with the Grant Agreement.
- c.
