Questions and Answers

Level One Form

1. Do we need to submit a Level One Form for all residents regardless of Medicaid?
   Yes, if they are entering a Medicaid certified bed, please submit an application.

2. If an individual does not have Medicaid, what do we put in the DCN field?
   If they do not have Medicaid, leave the DCN field blank.

3. Did this version change the Severe Anxiety Disorder to just Anxiety Disorder?
   Yes, it is now listed as Anxiety Disorder on the Level One form.

4. Previously on the DA 124 C form, there was an option for someone coming from a hospital as a prior living arrangement. Do we choose the living situation prior to hospitalization?
   The submitter should list where the individual was residing prior to the hospital admission.

5. Will the submitter still have to complete the separate Special Admission Category (SAC) form if the submitter completed the SAC questions within the application?
   No, the submitter will not have to complete a supplemental form to process a Special Admission Category (SAC) as in the past.

6. If the submitter has to complete the SAC form will it be electronic or on paper?
   The submitter must request the SAC on the application by selecting the SAC that is being requested. When a SAC is chosen, specific questions to each SAC will appear for the submitter to answer. These are the same questions that were listed on the supplemental form. Once the application has been submitted to COMRU for processing, the submitter is able to log back into the application and view whether or not COMRU has approved the SAC.

7. If an individual has a Related Condition diagnosis and only 2 limitations, will that trigger a Level 2?
   A Level 2 screening would trigger if the individual has a Related Condition Diagnosis before the age of 22 and has 3 or more functional limitations per guidelines.

8. If the resident already has a current Level 2, does the nursing facility have to submit a change in condition/status application due to a psych stay?
   Change in Condition and Change in Status are two different things. You would submit a Change in Status if the client triggers a significant change on their MDS, or the client was not previously screened for a Level 2.

   An example: The client did not previously trigger a Level 2 screening and then the client was admitted to a psychiatric unit. The SNF would have to submit a Change in Status.

   If the client has any new behavior that was not previously identified, the SNF would notify DMH of a Change in Condition. This is a different process of submitting to DMH, which is not addressed in this application. Please refer to the DMH webpage: https://dmh.mo.gov/dev-disabilities/programs/pasr-level-ii-assessments

9. Who is responsible for completing the Level One form?

   If the individual is currently in the hospital, the hospital should complete the Level One form.

   If the individual is in a community setting (including home, residential care, assisted living, group home, etc.), the physician referring the individual to the nursing home would complete the Level One form, however the nursing facility is encouraged to assist with this.

10. If the hospital starts the online application and does not complete it, should a duplicate form be completed?

    We highly discourage duplicate applications. Please work with the submitter to complete the application or provide you with the unique return code.

11. Are we able to start the application process without an identified skilled facility to accept the individual?

    An application can be processed (even a Level 2 screening) without an identified skilled nursing facility to accept the individual.
